

Lifeline

2010 Vol. 1

Heb 6:19 It (God's promise) is an unbreakable spiritual lifeline, reaching past all appearances right to the very presence of God .

I Serve a Risen Savior, He's In the World Today!
Alleluia! What a blessed assurance those words are to us; He's in the world today, with us, knowing our sorrows and our joys. I could go through all the hymns that I've sung so many years and my heart swells with the joy of their truth. That hymn titled above is so often sung during the NOMADS morning devotions, and it says it all. He is in this world and we serve Him. I know I am talking to your hearts when I say this and that you must feel it too. Praise His name!

Is it not strange that the sorrow of His life is so quickly followed by the joy that gives it all meaning? By how the crucifixion and the resurrection are bound together in one short span of time that binds us all to eternity? And in that we are all bound together sharing one another's needs and caring about the "widows and orphans, those in need and His children."

Ed and I are not out working the projects as we would desire, and I admit to some envy for those who are, but like many of you, we continue to support those in the field with our prayers and our finances. We ask for your support of the NOMADS as you are led: pray , join us in raising grant money, and join us on projects. The joy and rewards will all be yours, especially when working on projects. It only takes a short commitment to work a project, and it will give you a lifetime of memories. Go to the website below to know what it's all about.

Work by NOMADS teams at Anthony UMC, FL this winter. We work south in the winter and north in the summer. Plenty of work to go around and we always need workers.

Azalea Park, FL

NOMADS often build new structures where needed. These photos show the building of a bathroom for those who are handicapped.

The workers prepared the area, framed it in, put up the cement walls and completed the project.

New Stories About NOMADS

Last week we received a Thank You from Ms Beatrice Castaneda, whose home was the second home the NOMADS worked on in Galveston last fall. She says: "To all volunteers who worked on my house and made it possible for me to live in my home again...it is beautiful, Thank You and I will never forget you." God Bless You, Love Beatrice Castaneda. Ms Castaneda had given up on getting back into her home, as she put it "my husband is gone and I just do not know what to do." Mr. Castaneda passed away two years prior to the storm. When the NOMADS finished readying her home, she said, "I have never had a house this nice before."

These stories are only part, but an important part, of what keeps us coming back to work with NOMADS teams.
